FINALE OF AN ERA—the closing year of Arcadia High School as a four-year secondary school—this 1961 year has marked another milestone in the school's history.

In one short decade, Arcadia has rounded out a full cycle of development. With the beginning of construction of a new campus in 1951, the completion of the second half of the buildings in 1953, the graduation of the first senior class in 1955, and now, the final year as a four-year high school—these milestones have been achieved in ten short and eventful years.

Positively identified with the development of the high school during its formative decade has been former Principal, Elbert E. Souders. His leadership during the latter half of this period has resulted in an excellent academic program which is one of the most outstanding in Southern California.

Aracata had emerged, as Mr. Souders was elevated to the post of Assistant Superintendent in July, 1960, as an academically-centered school which is staffed by an outstanding faculty. It not only emphasizes college preparation but also provides sound programs for students who will terminate their formal education upon graduation from high school.

It is to this year of 1960-61, which rounds out a DECADE OF PROGRESS, and to former Principal ELBERT E. SOUDERS, that

It is to this year of 1960-61, which rounds out a DECADE OF PROGRESS, and to former Principal ELBERT E. SOUDERS, that the 1961 ARCADIAN IS PROUDLY DEDICATED.

It is with pleasure that I join in dedicating this Annual to Elbert E. Souders for his outstanding leadership and service since 1955 to Arcadia High School.

Jel Mountains, and just across Campus Drive, the Arcadia golf course, enhance beauty of the campus.

A THREE YEAR SCHOOL BECAME NECESSARY WHEN

Shaded by specimen Jacaranda trees, the grassy areas between the class room units provide a peaceful place in which to sketch. Belying the crowded conditions of classrooms and halls, these attractively landscaped areas add beauty and serenity to the campus.

EARLY 2700 STUDENTS OVERCROWDED THE CAMPUS

Located in the center of the campus, the main building was the heart of the university. It was a large, multi-story building with a prominent chimney. The building was surrounded by a large number of students, who were gathered in the courtyard in front of it. The students were dressed in early 20th-century clothing, and the scene was crowded, reflecting the high student population mentioned in the caption.

ADMINISTRATION

AS THE FIRST DECADE closes, present members of the Arcadia Board of Education have seen the realization of a cherished dream. With sharp increases in high school population, year after year, the Campus Drive facility had become greatly overcrowded.

A successful bond issue was finally passed, permitting the change-over from a four to a three year high school. Construction of the new Foothill Junior High School in the northern section of the city, and the enlargement of First Avenue and Dana Schools, will make the new 6-3-3 system a reality in the fall. Tent classrooms will be removed.

Problems of construction, policies relating to the new junior high schools, consideration of the many facets of school operation have been matters of continuing concern for members of the Board of Education.

Dr. Burtis E. Taylor became the new Superintendent of Schools in July of 1960, with Myron E. Greene coming to the High School as Principal in November.

A certified staff of more than 125 members, a number of them having been teachers here since the school opened in 1951, along with an efficient classified group, has combined to make this an important year.

Conferring on the construction of the new Foothill Junior High School, members of the Board of Education, under the able leadership of President Harold Lietz, have considered many of the problems which present themselves with the addition to District facilities. Dr. Antane W. Nisson served as Vice President with Dr. Robert I. Boyd as Secretary.

OVERALL PLANNING FOR JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

District Administrators: Elmer F. Sander, Assistant Superintendent, and two other administrators, one of whom is identified as Business.

AS BEEN A MAJOR TASK OF DISTRICT ADMINISTRATORS

ASSUMING HIS NEW POSITION of Superintendent of Arcadia schools on July 1, 1960, Dr. Burtis E. Taylor, along with Elbert E. Souders, Assistant Superintendent in charge of Educational Services, and Dr. Alton E. Scott, Assistant Superintendent, Business Services, has ably directed the overall planning for Arcadia's ten schools.

Of major importance during the year for the Administration has been the construction and furnishings of the new Foothill Junior High School and the enlargement of both First Avenue and Richard Henry Dana schools to convert them to junior high facilities.

Dr. Taylor came to Arcadia from Riverside where he had previously been Assistant Superintendent, and has shown skill and administrative leadership in his work with the Arcadia schools during the past year.

After a successful five year tenure as Principal of Arcadia High School, Elbert E. Souders was elevated to the post of Assistant Superintendent of the Educational Services. Of major concern, in addition to the curriculum planning for the new school, has been directing the selection of new textbooks and resource material for all schools. Further refinements of the total program of the Junior High and the High School and many other considerations have engaged his attention during the year. He also served as Principal of the High School until Mr. Myron E. Greene assumed that position on November 14.

Rounding out his second year as Assistant Superintendent in charge of Business Services, Dr. Alton E. Scott has been a competent administrator of the fiscal responsibilities of the District, along with overseeing the many physical improvements which have been made at the schools during the year. A major task has been the preparation of contracts and execution of them as the Foothill Junior High School has been constructed.

ATA President Walter LeGier discusses Association business with Donald Hughes, Personnel Director.

PERSONNEL DIRECTOR Donald D. Hughes has been responsible for the selection and recommendation to the Superintendent and Board of Education of all district employees for the past nine years. Prior to that time, he had been a teacher and principal in the district for three years.

Through his diligent efforts and careful consideration of the professional preparation and personal qualifications of the certificated staff, Mr. Hughes has been instrumental in building an outstanding faculty in the district. He is also responsible for the recruiting of other district employees, as well. Many fine personnel policies have been adopted during his nine years here.

Walter LeGier, high school science teacher, served as the president of the local professional organization, the Arcadia Teachers Association.

Principal Myron E. Greene

ADERSHIP, ASSISTED BY A SEASONED STAFF

ON NOVEMBER 14, 1960, Myron E. Greene assumed the principalship of the Arcadia High School. With school already having been underway two months, Mr. Greene plunged into the demanding task of getting acquainted with the faculty and the many facets of his position.

Proving himself an able and thorough executive, Mr. Greene has, during the year, provided the leadership necessary to co-ordinate the many activities and individuals under his supervision. He has made many friends in the school and the community as his first year comes to a close.

Mr. Greene received his M.A. degree from Washington University in St. Louis and has done additional graduate work at the University of Southern California. Before coming to Arcadia as principal, Mr. Greene had been a school administrator for nine years in other districts in the Southern California area.

AGAIN DEMONSTRATING his competence, Gerald Rayl, Assistant Principal, has met the challenges of the past year with his usual efficiency and thoroughness.

Pre-school planning of staff assignments and room allocations had already been completed by Mr. Rayl so that a smooth-running organization has functioned through the year, in spite of record enrollment, extended day scheduling, and the continued use of tent classrooms.

Mr. Rayl's additional responsibilities have included the supervision of the use and maintenance of all school buildings and equipment. Relocation of administrative offices in the rehabilitated Administration Building which was destroyed by fire the previous April was a major project during November.

Having completed his seventh year as a member of Arcadia's staff, Mr. Rayl is rounding out his sixth year as an administrator. During his first year Mr. Rayl taught mathematics. He is a graduate of Indiana University, with an M.A. from the same school, also having done additional work at Notre Dame, Cornell, San Diego University, and the University of Southern California.

For a demanding assignment "well done," in an extremely pleasant and friendly manner, Mr. Rayl is to be congratulated.

PUPIL PERSONNEL DIRECTOR

ALBERT E. ACTON, who has combined both the positions of Director of Student Activities and Pupil Personnel during the past year, has done an outstanding job of serving as an advisor to the Executive Council, as well as counseling students on different types of problems.

Reflecting thoughtfulness and fairness, he has carried out programs in the best interests of students.

Both parents and teachers have cooperated excellently, to achieve their goal of a better understanding between faculty, students, and their parents.

COMPREHENSIVE PROGRAMS STRESSED LITERATURE

LLOYD SAVAGE
Chairman, English Dept

STRESSING the fundamentals of grammar and punctuation, helping students to acquire a knowledge of American and foreign literature, developing written and oral techniques—all these represent the offerings of the English Department. All graduates from the High School must have successfully completed a four year requirement in English. A diversified program of classes are offered to each student.

The Creative Writing Book included a number of fine poems and short stories from Arcadia High students; the Pow Wow, Arcadia High's bi-monthly newspaper, reflected the thoughts and activities of all students, as reporters learned the techniques of publishing a newspaper; the Arcadian, annual of the High School, afforded students the opportunity to meet the heavy demands and responsibilities of publishing a 272 page book; and speech and drama students again won many awards and presented a variety of fine programs during the eventful past year.

DRIVER EDUCATION

INSTRUCTING STUDENTS in the fundamentals of driving through classroom driver instruction and "behind the wheel" driver training, as they learned safe driving regulations contained in the California Vehicle Code, Driver Education teachers prepared students to become competent drivers.

In order to further their understanding, also, special instruction was given in the mechanical makeup of automobiles, as well as in the care and maintenance of vehicles.

WITH ADVANCED and regular courses in biology, and accelerated and regular courses in Chemistry and physics, the science faculty has striven to present students at Arcadia with a better-than-ever science program. This year, in keeping with this goal and also with a trend in the entire United States, Arcadia has adopted a program of accelerated chemistry which incorporates some of the techniques now used in college chemistry. Each year the department has come to its goal of progress

GOVERNMENT

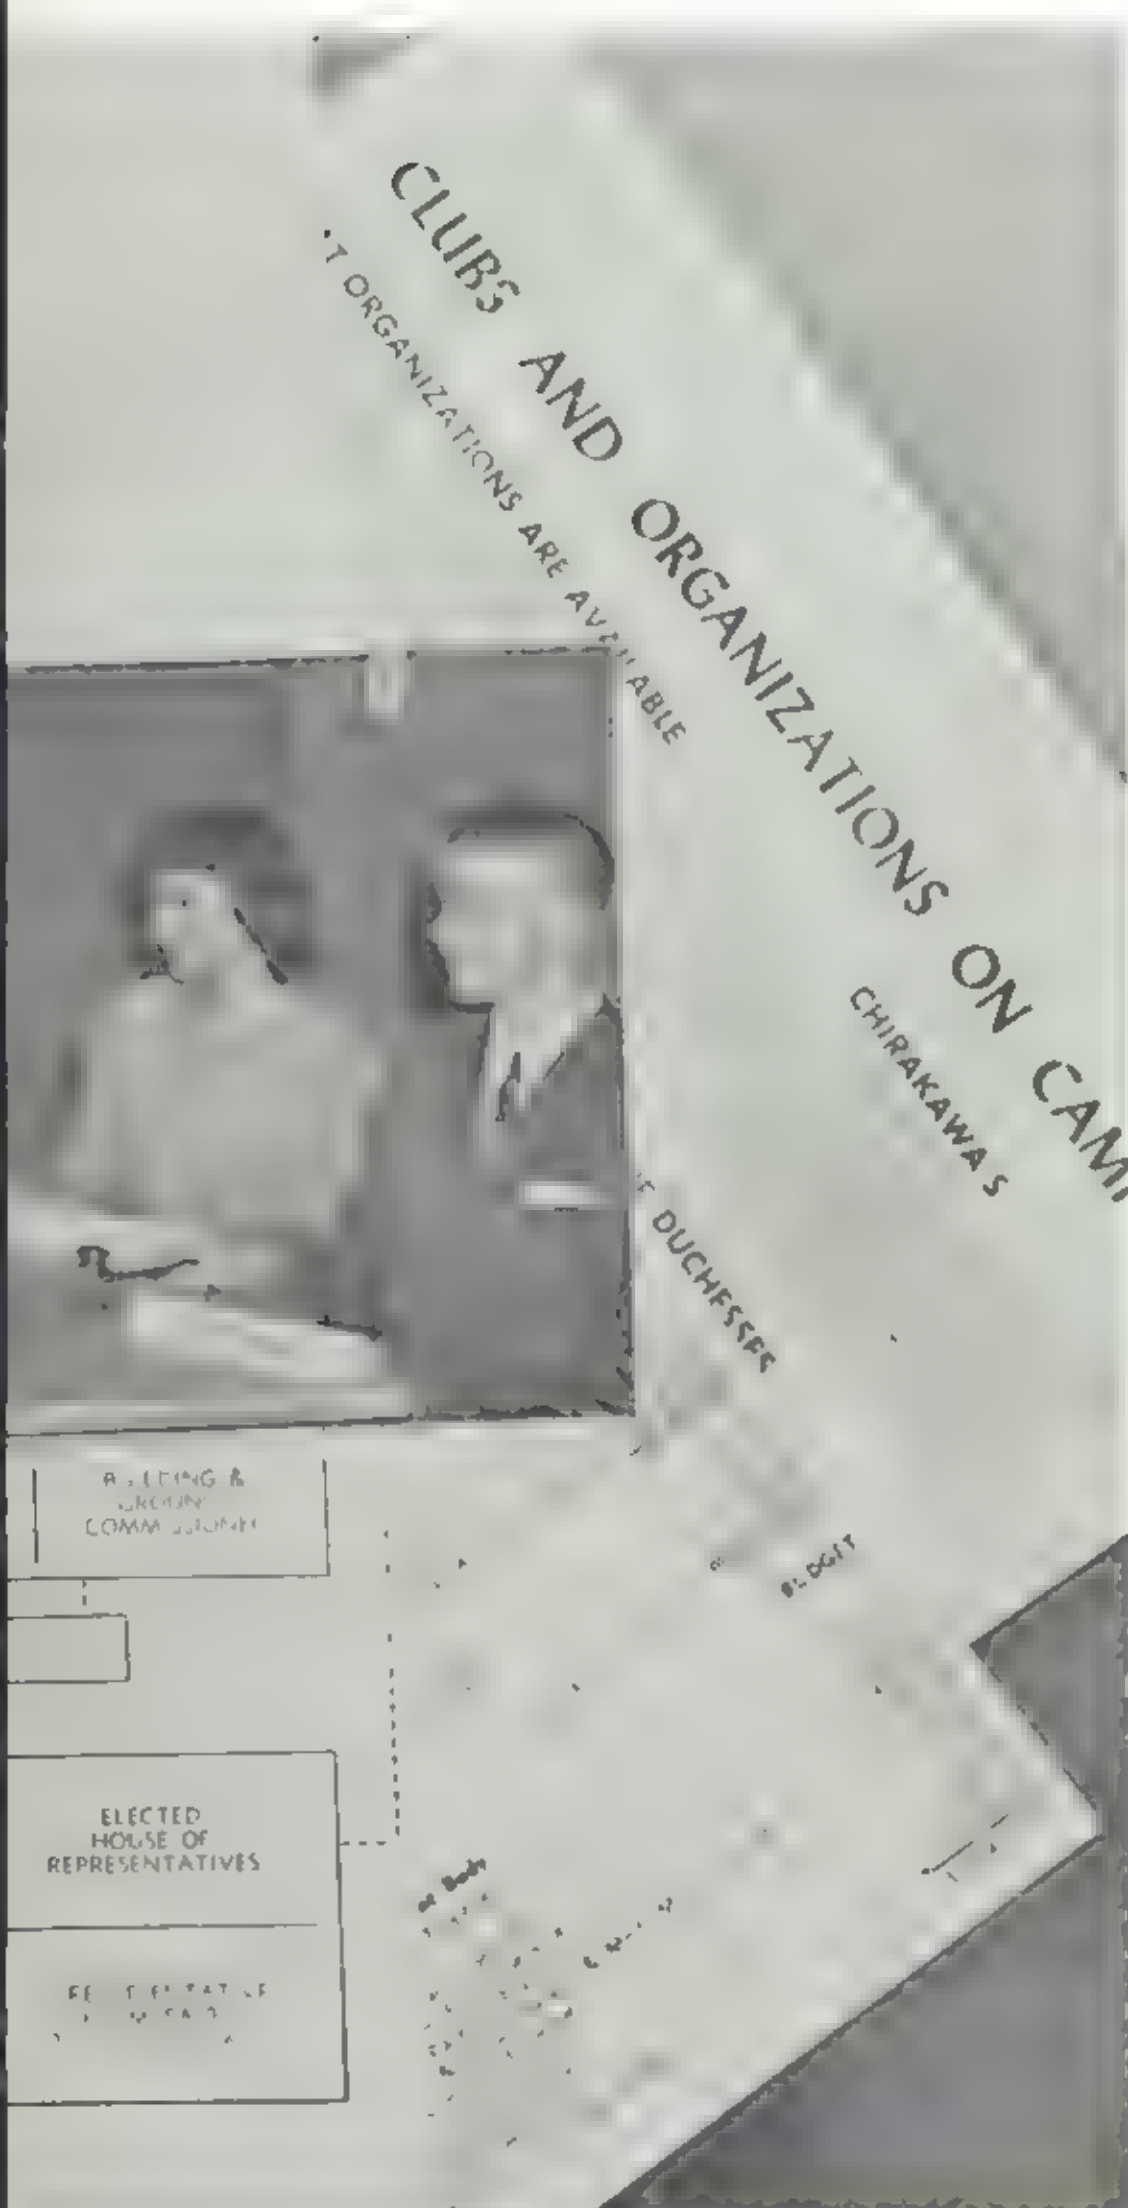

HAVING DEMONSTRATED the acceptance of the responsibilities of leadership in GOVERNMENT as it relates to various student organizations at Arcadia, student officers have prepared themselves to take their places in the larger adult community.

Throughout the first decade, continued progress has been shown in the development and administration of sound campus organizations. By following the traditional pattern of student elections, EXECUTIVE COUNCIL members have been selected, year after year, by all students. Members of each class, in turn, have made their concerns known through elected representatives who have met in the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. GIRLS LEAGUE officers and their committees represented yet another governmental group on campus as they promoted a friendly atmosphere and arranged social events.

Busy campus clubs have pursued their independent projects and activities in keeping with their special interests. Yet, through the INTER CLUB COUNCIL, they have banded together to promote school-wide activities. This year, a new honor service club, the SENIOR MEN'S CLUB, was formed to parallel the girls' group, KIOWA. Throughout the year, these organizations have served in many capacities to benefit and represent their school. In addition, the local KEY CLUB, a young men's group sponsored by the Kiwanis International, has continued to provide opportunities for school service.

Finally, governmental organization and operation through elected officers and functioning committees has continued to flourish in all campus groups.

Governmental representatives Robert Maynard, Senior Men's Club; Ellen Dumbacher, Girls League; James Hoover, Speaker of the House; Steve McCoy, Executive Council; Joe Genova, Inter Club Council; Etta Osiman, Kiowa; and Robert Knapp, Key Club, meet together to plan general campus events.

A S B. PRESIDENT Steve McCray

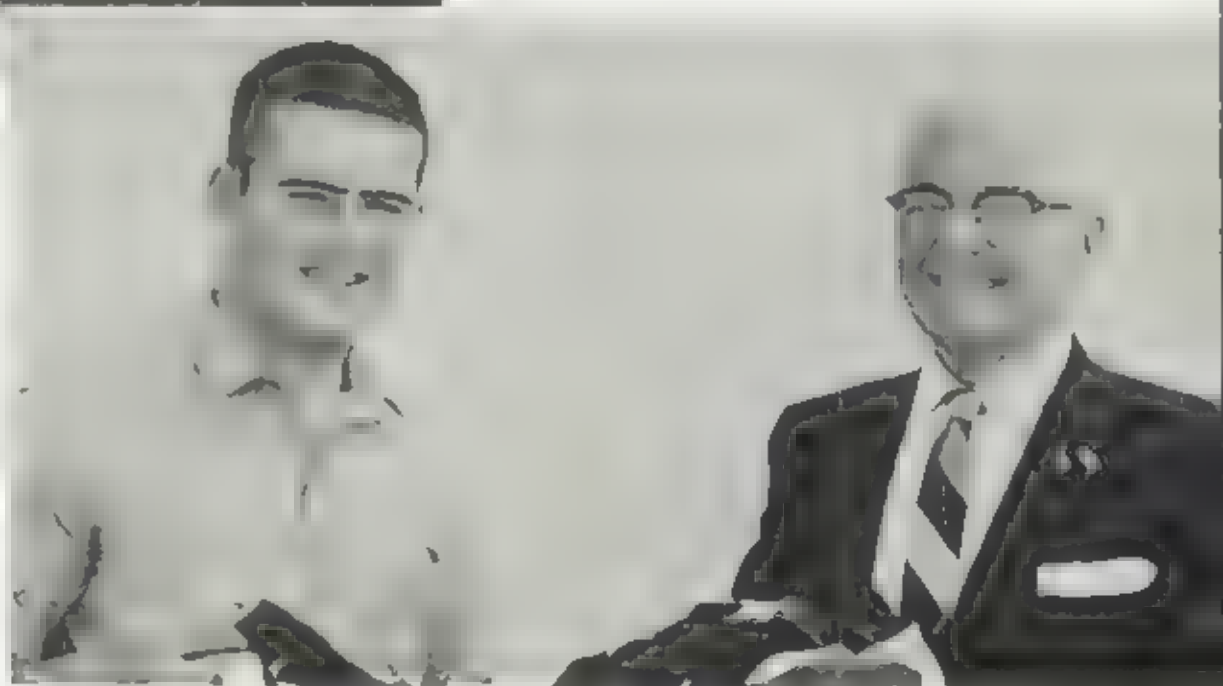

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS

AS STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT and presiding officer of the Executive Council, Steve McCray has been responsible for leadership in the planning and coordination of student projects and activities.

Each item of business pertaining to Student Body affairs must be submitted to and passed by the Executive Council.

Their judgments must be based on school policy and traditional practices which have proven acceptable in past years.

In addition to policy decisions, the Executive Council members promote and help sponsor several outstanding social events during the year including Homecoming activities, and the annual Christmas Formal.

In a special assembly, Steve McCray represented the Student Body in accepting a special award presented by Congressman Hiestand.

Taking over in time of the President's absence is the job of the Vice President but Joe Lenova also heads the Advisory Council and the Inter Club Council.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL MEMBERS met daily in a leadership class supervised by Albert E. Acton, Coordinator of Pupil Personnel, to plan activities and discuss student policies within their jurisdiction.

Elected by popular vote late in their Junior year, the eleven members are responsible for planning many different phases of student life.

Each year the visiting Foreign Exchange students are ex officio members of the Council, so that they may learn first hand about Student Government in American schools.

Making overall plans for coordinated club activities, establishing of procedures for student self-government, ruling on the advisability of undertaking suggested projects—all these represent the considerations of these campus leaders.

ARCADIA has an Advisory Council which advises students who commit minor infractions of school rules.

Assuming the responsibility for the advising of their students has been a worthwhile experience for the Council. Their suggestions, as a whole, have been well received.

Suzi Yeager, keeping in touch with the swiftly moving events at Arcadia, ably fulfills the duties as Corresponding Secretary. Equally as efficient, Patty Manning has kept the minutes of each executive Council meeting in neat order.

LED BY SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE Jim Hoover, the House of Representatives continued to solve the problems of the student government. A representative from each third period class attended a monthly meeting to bring before the House the ideas and problems of the students in his class. The representatives then returned to their third period classes with a report from the meeting. Acting as a liaison between the administration and the Student Body, the House of Representatives is a major factor in the smooth functioning of the school.

INTERNATIONAL UNITY WAS PROMOTED BY STUDENT EXCHANGE

SINCE 1954, fifteen exchange students sponsored by the American Field Service from Germany, Greece, Finland, France, Iran, Italy, New Zealand, Norway, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, and Turkey have spent a year in Arcadia. Living with a local family and studying at Arcadia High School.

Several of Arcadia's students have also participated in the Americans Abroad program, spending a summer or a semester abroad, living in host homes and attending foreign schools.

The American Field Service was set up as a national project for the furtherance of friendship and understanding among the young people of the world.

Under the direction of adult AFS groups in Arcadia, applications are made available to those juniors who wish to apply for foreign study. After preliminary screenings, finalists write essays which, along with a personal record, are sent to New York where final judging is completed.

Proceeds from the Talent Show, presented in December of each year, are used to finance the expenses of the foreign exchange program at Arcadia.

Dear Apaches,

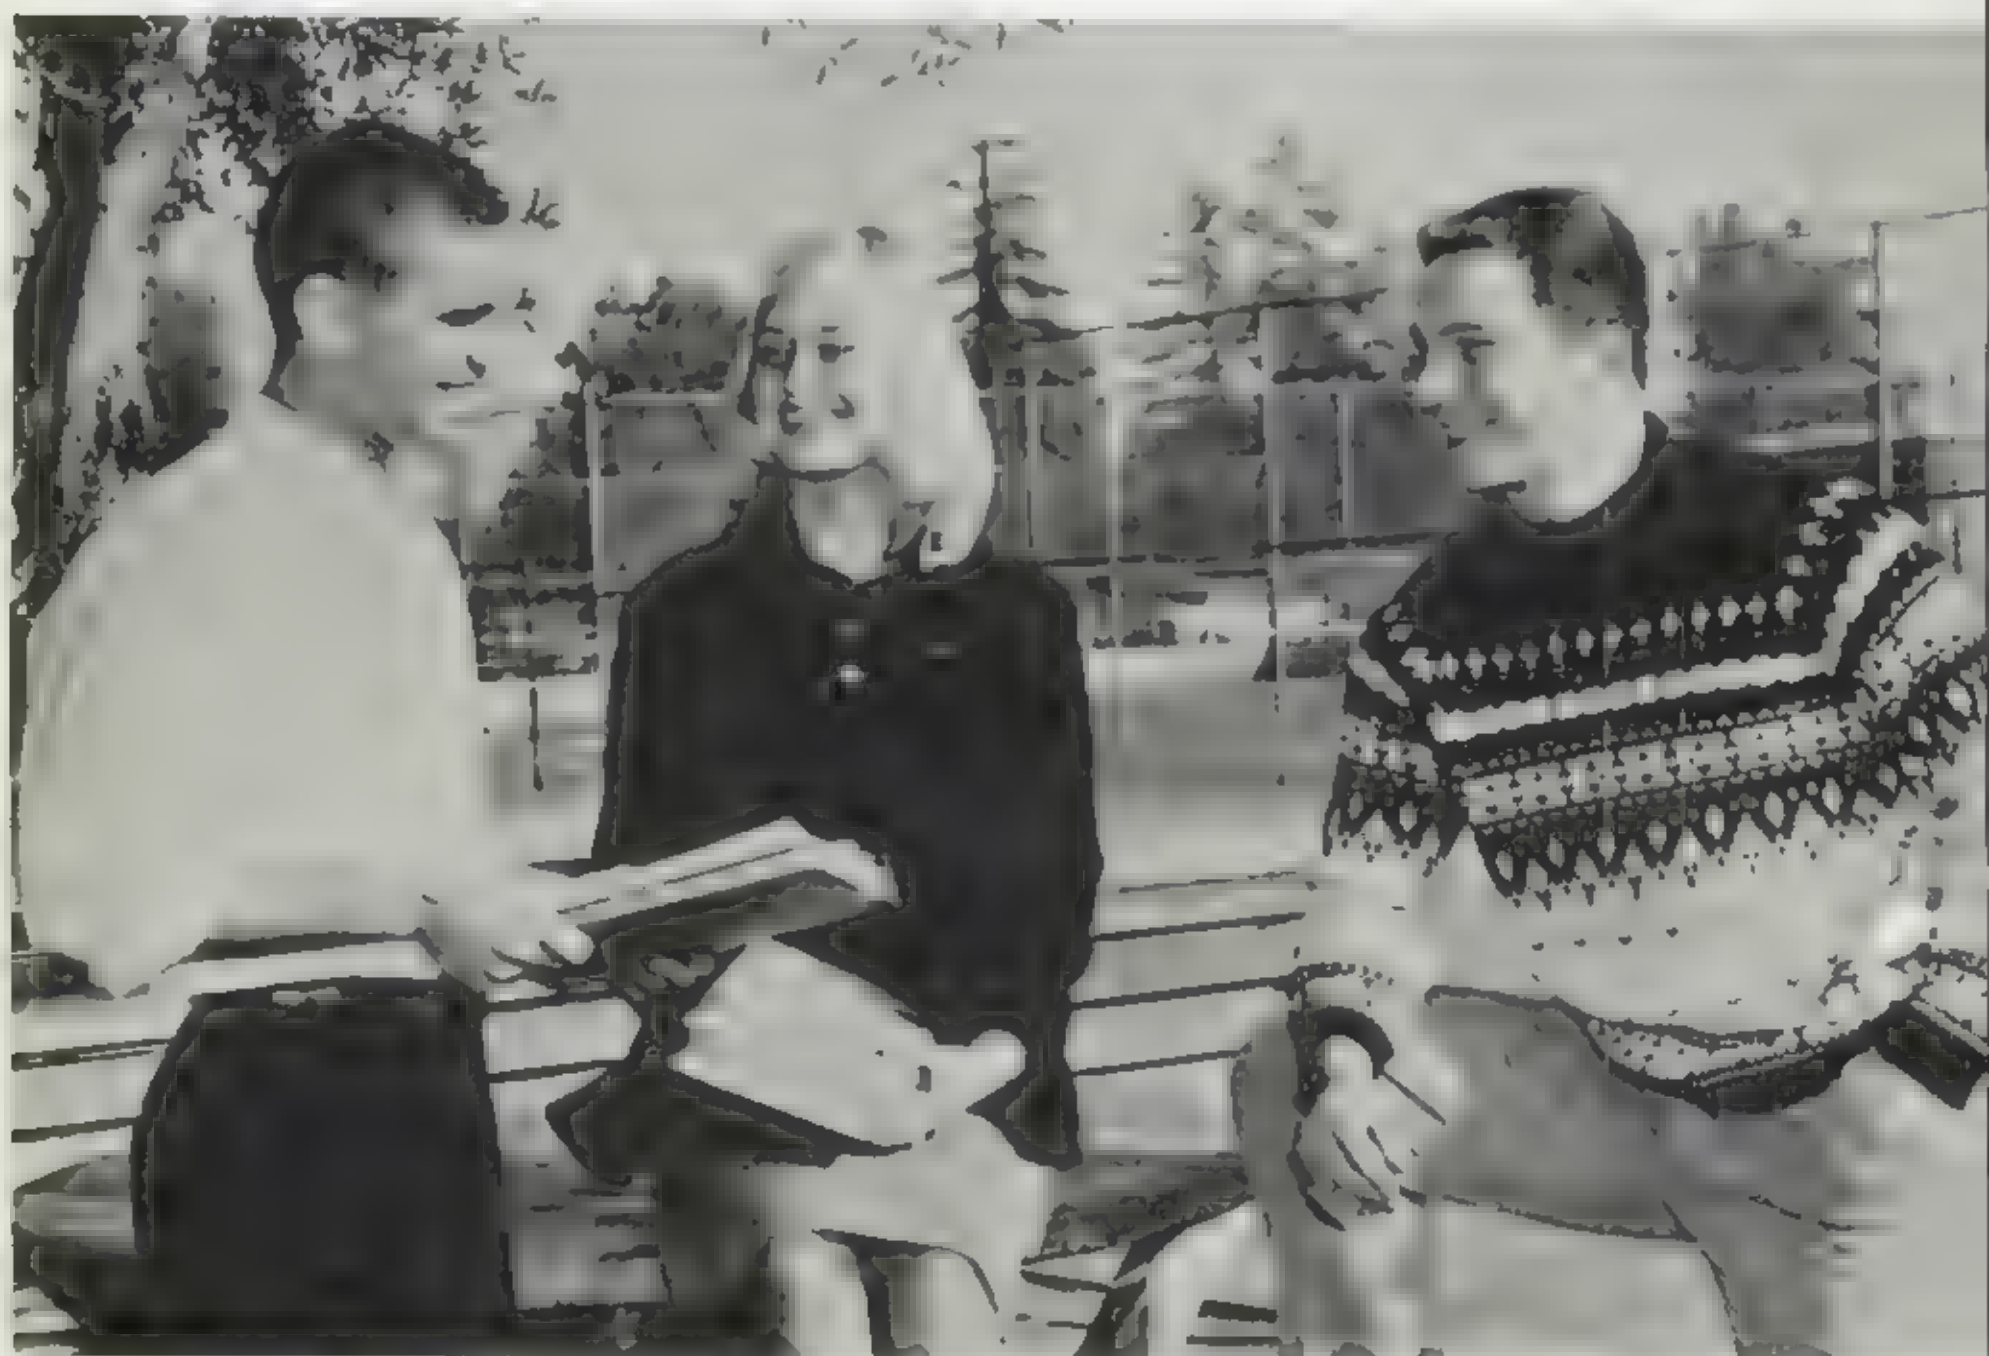

When we first came to this country, we always were a little bit homesick. You, however, made through your friendliness Arcadia High School a new home for us.

You made out of us "palefaces," typical Apaches who eagerly liked to go on scholastic as well as athletic warpaths with other schools.

Although we have to leave you now after a wonderful year which went by much too fast, we'll always be proud having been Apaches.

GIRLS LEAGUE SPONSORED "FRIENDLIEST" CHOICES.

EACH MONTH'S Friendliest Girl candidates were nominated by the Sunshine Committee of the Girls' League, and were voted by every girl in the school. Balloting took place in all gym classes with one girl, designated by grade level, chosen for each month from October to May. Then, with all the Friendliest Girls as nominees, the Friendliest Girl of the Year was elected at the end of the school term.

Voted 'Friendliest' for the months named, Janet Lucas, January; Jean DuBois, May; Sharon Ross, April, and Susan Stock, November that informally. Not pictured is Kathy Love, December.

ACTIVITIES

Each year the orientation program for freshmen and new students inaugurates the opening of school

With Homecoming festivities highlighting the football season with its exciting games, beautiful half-time presentations, and sock hops, the activities calendar bulged with all school activities. Clubs began to function, choosing activities and service projects which interest special groups

Go American," the annual talent show to finance the exchange of students, took the spotlight early in December, with the traditional presentation of Handel's "Messiah" as a pre-Christmas event. Closing the fall season was the formal Christmas Dance

Girls' League sponsored a series of special events during the year, with a pre-school picnic and fashion show, the Christmas tea, and a number of assemblies. Mid-year, was the Sweetheart Ball, and the annual Junior-Senior Prom climaxed the formal season

A.S.B. elections for the following year and the drama of the announcements of winners for office come at the spring Election Dance

SCHEDULED throughout the school year, an assembly program of special events brought entertaining and instructive performances before the student body. The few but excellent assemblies contributed to a more interesting campus life.

SWEETHEART BALL

JOINTLY SPONSORED by Kowas and Key Club, the 1961 Sweetheart Ball took place on Friday, February 10. The Girls Gym was decorated with red, pink, and white hearts and flowers, and the music was provided by the Blue Notes.

The crowning of Sweetheart Queen in her court was the highlight of the evening. The 1961 Sweetheart princesses were Donna Arnold, freshman princess; Becky Patton, sophomore princess; and Mary Jane, junior princess. Escorted to the throne by the Key Club officers, the royal court was chosen by the boys of the school.

EQUIPMENT

With the completion of his sixth year at Arcadia, Don Hewitt has gained admiration and respect from both students and adults of the community. As sports equipment manager, his unselfish dedication to the school earned him a life membership in the P.T.A. in 1959. Pictured with Don Hewitt demonstrating the wide range of equipment are Ron Pitterson, Dave Ramirez and Steve Strompe.

SPORTS

THE TENTH YEAR of the existence of Arcadia High School found the Apaches making their finest record in history in Varsity Sports. The Apache football squad, long the Pacific League doormat, exploded into a perfect nine win-no loss record and earned their first CIF bid.

Apaches topped the playoff opener to Anaheim, 12-13, but still gained recognition as the first Arcadia team to reach the C.F. playoffs, in any sport.

Varsity football squad did not enjoy a long reign as the only Arcadia CIF entry, as the J.V. Cross-Country team reached the finals for the first time, finishing eleventh out of 360 schools. And when the basketball season rolled around, the Apaches were in there again. Arcadia rolled up a 7-3 League record, and took twenty out of twenty-five games, both high marks for Apache basketball; then followed with the first Arcadia CIF win squeezing past Mt. Carmel, 54-53.

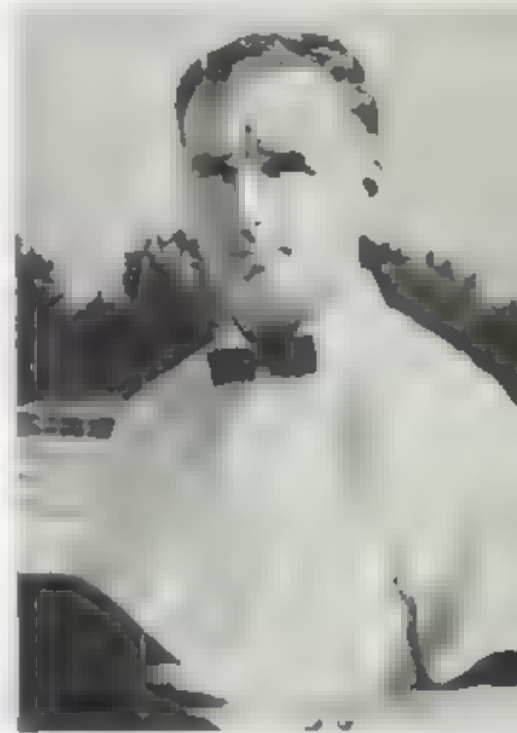

At press time, results for Spring sports were not available, but the Apache track squad trounced the Arroyo Knights, 97 1/2-5 1/2, in the season opener, running up the greatest margin ever scored in Arcadia's track. The Tennis team began the season with a rare loss, but the perennial league champion golfers started out the year in fine form.

Rounding out the Decade of Progress in all fields, academic and extracurricular, Arcadia completed a year of good sportsmanship and fine performance.

1960 SEASON FOUND VARSITY APACHES HAIL

ROMPING TO A PACIFIC LEAGUE championship, the Apaches completed their most successful season and the best in the history of the school. Led by Paul Duhart, the outstanding coach from Massachusetts, the gridgers rolled up an 8-0 record and soundly trounced their traditional Cross-town rival, Monrovia.

The Monrovia game was the highlight of the year, marking the first time in Arcadia's history that the Apaches had topped the Wildcats. One week later the Apaches met the Anaheim Colonists in the first round of the CIF playoffs and lost, 13-12, for their only setback of the season.

Paul Duhart, one of the outstanding high school football coaches from Massachusetts with a 22 game winning streak, and managed to extend it to 23 before the loss to Anaheim. He is Director of Athletics.

FIRST VARSITY FOOTBALL TITLE IN SCHOOL'S HISTORY

STEVE McCRAY AND LARRY ZENO were elected the 1960 co-captains of the Varsity. Moving here from Massachusetts, where he was honored as all-scholastic back-of-the-year in 1959, Zeno sparked the team on frequent occasions, leading the team in total yardage gained.

McCray suffered a broken foot during the homecoming game with Alhambra, and was sidelined for the balance of the season. He continued to act as an inspiration for the team.

AINED POSSESSION OF THE UNOFFICIAL LEAGUE TITLE

Turning the corner during a J.V. game against Whittier is Joe Rife

JOE RIFE was named as one of the two starters for the J.V. Rife sparked the Arcadia offense from the quarterback slot and also performed ably for Arcadia on defense

MIKE McKEE was elected co-captain for the J.V. squad. Playing as line backer, McKee was the mainstay of the Arcadia defense, and played fullback and guard on offense

1960 J.V. CHAMPS

FOLLOWING the team's excellent 8-0 record, coach Don Hewitt awarded letters to all of the 41 J.V. players at the winter awards assembly in January. The players had to play in at least half of the League quarters to earn their letters.

The fact that the whole team received letters demonstrates the versatility of this rugged J.V. team. Throughout the year, the second and third squads performed well against most opponents. The coaches, expecting many returning lettermen, look forward to another strong and successful season.

CONTINUOUS EFFORT AND GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP.

PLAGUED BY INJURIES, the handicapped B's demonstrated sportsmanship throughout the season. One of the injuries that was felt most by the B's was the loss of the first string fullback Dave Caswell. At the January awards assembly Coach Fullerton commented on the fact that despite the poor record the B's continued to practice diligently.

Sportsmanship of the B's was further demonstrated by the fact that although they were usually behind at the start of the second half, they refused to give up and improved towards the end of the game.

JAYVEES PLACED ELEVENTH IN CIF IN UNDEFEATED YEAR.

THE APACHE CROSS-COUNTRY teams romped to their most successful year in 1960, taking second in the league in varsity, and winning league championships in JV and Reserve divisions. The Varsity and JV's also swept the Pacific League meet, garnering ten of a possible twenty medals.

The Varsity lost only one league meet to Alhambra, but took five of the first seven places in the all-league meet. Tracy Smith nabbed first place in the league meet, going undefeated in league races. Rick Hedrick provided the Apaches with a good one-two punch.

Although plagued by inconsistency, Dave Long finished the season as the most valuable JV. With his brother Jeff always close at his heels, Dave set a new JV record, took first in the all-league meet, and led the JV's to an eleventh place finish in the CIF, the best ever done by an Apache cross-country team.

COMPILING A 21-6 OVER ALL RECORD, VARSITY

Don Trotter jumps against an unidentified Moor player during the 61-53 Apache win over Ahambra

FINISHING the season with an over-all 21-6 record the Varsity completed its most successful season. Highlighting the season was the 54-53 win over Mt Carmel, which marked our first CIF playoff victory. Unfortunately, in the next playoff game, playing without their star guard Doug Bolcom, the Varsity fell victim to Antelope Valley and thus ended their CIF bid. However, Doug Bolcom, Guard, was named to the First Team in All-Pacific League. Forward Bill Hedlund garnered a spot in the Second Team of APL. Also given honorable mention in the League was Guard Don Trotter

C.I.F. PLAYOFFS

LOSING ONLY THREE league games, the '61 Varsity became the first basketball team in Apache history to make the CIF playoffs. Also, with the 54-53 win over Mt Carmel, the eagles became the first team in all Arcadia history to win a playoff game. Unfortunately, in the next game, playing without the fine eye of Doug Bolcom, their CIF hopes were snapped by the 71-55 loss to Antelope Valley. This game ended the most successful year in the history of the school (last year they went right to the gates of the CIF) and with the return of first stringers Russ Banko and Doug Bolcom Mr. Hooker is looking forward to an even better season next year.

1961 VARSITY TRACK team entered the season with high hopes for another fabulous year. Although many of the 1960 stars had departed, capable athletes were there to replace them.

Dick Wimbish, who was second in the CIF in the Bee hurdles the year before moved up to varsity and swept several early meets.

Leonard Cirino vaulted 128" in his first outing, and Dave Long hovered around 2:00 flat in the half mile. Sophomore miler Tracy Smith showed tremendous promise, breaking 4:40 early in the year.

ARCADIA'S 1961 B squad gave early indications of becoming a great team.

Several members of the 1960 CIF champion C team moved up to the B's and were even more impressive. Bill Claasen, who won the C shot put title in '60, returned as a B and extended the school record almost three feet using the heavier shot. His best effort, before the season started, was 55 5/8.

Dave Long, also a CIF winner in 1960, ran varsity 880 during most of the preseason meets, but dropped to B classification once and posted a fantastic 1:23.3 in the 660, breaking the school record by almost a full second.

Jim Van Horn tied a meet record of 10.1 in the 100 yard dash in the Pasadena Games, and also starred in the low hurdles and the broad jump.

The only other Arcadia team to take both the El Monte Relays and the Pasadena Games was the C squad of 1960, which went on to win the CIF championship. Even the great B team of 1958, which finished a close second in the CIF finals and set two CIF records, was unable to pull out both meets.

CHAMPIONSHIP AND LEAGUE TITLE.

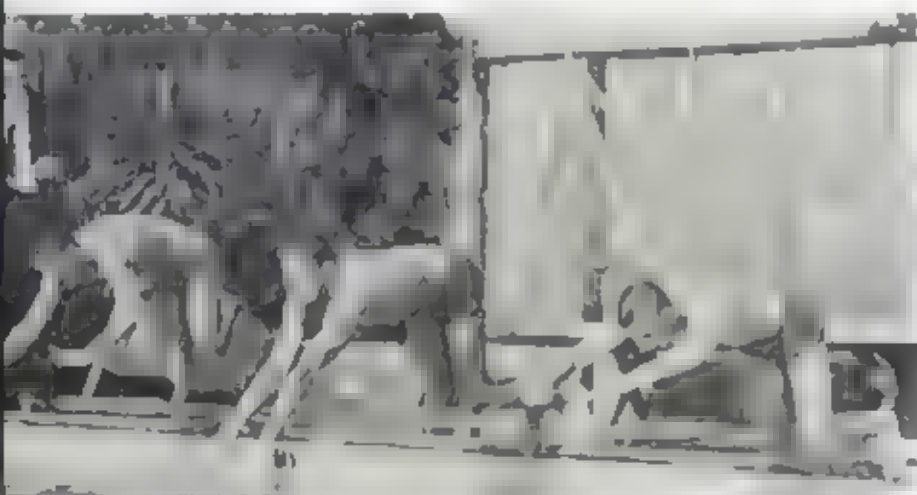

AFTER TAKING PACIFIC LEAGUE titles in C divisions for three straight years and CIF championship in 1960, the Apaches were weakened considerably in 1961. Howard Lucas, Dave Long, Bill Soule, and Bill Claasen, all CIF place winners, moved up to higher divisions or left track entirely, leaving the Cees with an inexperienced team to start the year.

Frank Giambalvo leaped almost twenty feet in the broad jump in the year's first meet, and Mike Luboviski cleared 5'5" twice in the high jump. Don Liddiard won consistently in the low hurdles, and Bill Young took several firsts in the sprints, as well as showing considerable promise in the 660.

GIRLS MASTER SKILLS IN BADMINTON , VOLLEY BA

IN FOUR YEARS of required physical education, Arcadia girls have received instruction in basic rules and regulations governing the playing of many types of sports, both body conditioning and recreational. Grace, coordination, correct breathing, and muscle conditioning are emphasized as a part of the program.

Staffed by six teachers, the department maintains a full year program, providing a series of sports activities for each grade level. Extra curricular groups such as the Girls' Athletic Association and the freshman G.A.A. compete during the year in several playdays.

All these: Good sportsmanship, development of good health patterns of exercise and recreational sports events, are the goals of the girls physical education program.

Tumbling techniques are demonstrated by Julie Taylor, Rose King and Judy Leitch as they learn fundamentals of balance and coordination.

ORGANIZATIONS

TRAINING for community leadership through club participation, developing special abilities in music; public speaking and writing; and pursuing academic interest through non-class investigations—all these facets of students' individual development have been fostered through the ORGANIZATIONS program at Arcadia High.

By trial and error, in keeping with the changing student population and their interests during the first decade of the school's history, clubs and organizations have gained a respected place in the life of the school and the community.

Precision marching, performed by Arcadia's Marching Band and Auxiliary Units, along with the famed Tom Tom Girls is one of the newest innovations of the performing units this year. Ronald Hoar, Band Director, Miss Marcia Peterson, Tom Tom Girls sponsor and Miss Carol Lawson, director of the Auxiliary Units, have planned formations and drilled the groups to a peak of perfection.

DEDICATED to school service, the senior girls honorary club, Kiowas, has completed another noteworthy year. The girls earned membership to the club by points acquired through leadership, scholarship and service. Among their activities, the efficient girls sold football programs, held the traditional Alumni Tea and jointly sponsored the Sweetheart Ball with Key Club.

KEY CLUB FINANCED SCHOLARSHIP, SERVED OTHERS.

CHOSEN on the basis of scholarship, citizenship, and participation in school activities, Key Club members provided services for both their school and community. They were guided by Ronald S. Gister and sponsored by the Arcadia Chapter of Kiwanis International.

Members ushered at games and assemblies, served at the Girls' League Christmas tea and Mother's Day luncheon, and jointly sponsored the Sweetheart Banquet.

The main project was the annual fund-raising drive "A Dollar For A Scholar" which helped to provide a deserving student with adequate funds to aid him in furthering his education.

In addition to these services the Key Club members held many social gatherings at the homes of different members. Arcadia chapter's Kiwanis sponsors were Allan Jaynes and Dexter Jones.

SENIORS

SHAKESPEARE and O Henry, valances and Newton's laws, grammar, composition and literature of the world, the significance of historical events—constituted only a part of the curriculum encountered during high school years.

A dramatic revision in a way of life confronts Seniors as they are graduated June 15. Whether to enroll in an institution of higher learning, or go out to establish themselves in a world of jobs and adult responsibilities, were major decisions which had to be made.

Taking a new look—one with fresh appreciation of the academic opportunities which have been offered; the friendships which have matured; the disappointments and triumphs of the past four years—these are the nostalgic recollections of the members of the CLASS OF 1961, some six hundred strong.

Favorite Spot on campus is the Senior Square which was the gift of the Class of 1955.

REVIEWING THEIR FOUR YEARS IN HIGH SCHOOL

STU ASMUS, Senior Class President, was responsible for working with the other Senior officers, Mrs. Delena Rasmussen, Senior sponsor, and the Senior Council to plan the many class activities. Choosing the Senior Gift, planning the Teacher Appreciation Dinner and Baccalaureate, Commencement, Senior Assembly ordering caps and gowns and invitations were among the many considerations the officers made.

Highlighting the graduation events was the All Night Party, sponsored by enthusiastic parents.

With the completion of their high school careers, the Seniors realize that they are on the threshold of many new adventures, and that acquaintance though scattered widely will not soon be forgotten.

CLASS OF '61

Enthusiastic sponsor, Mrs. Delena Rasmussen, has been meeting all year with the seniors planning events leading up to and including graduation.

Jeanne McCue, Recording Secretary, reviews minutes from the last class meeting while Susan McCue, Senior Class Secretary, writes inquiries regarding Senior business.

GOLD SEAL GRADUATES

SEVENTEEN SENIORS are to be congratulated on being graduated with high honors. The coveted Gold Seal is affixed to their diplomas signifying that they have made outstanding records in the academic curriculum.

Gold Seal bearers represent slightly less than three per cent of the graduating class which numbers more than 600. At the close of the first semester when the seventeen had qualified, there was also a small additional group of seniors who had fulfilled the three semester requirement but had, at that time, not yet compiled the grade point average for their senior semester.

Upon completing this requirement in the second semester, their names will be added to the honored group, and they will be announced at the Commencement ceremony.

WORTHWHILE YEAR

GRADUATES from Arcadia High School will have successfully completed a full four year curriculum in English, although most colleges only require three years for admission

A carefully planned program includes course offerings at four levels of difficulty. Competently selected students are channeled into the Accelerated English program to permit more capable English students to progress more rapidly and examine literature with greater analytic skills

A thorough review of grammar, spelling and punctuation is stressed through the four year curriculum, Literature of the United States, England and other world literature is read and basic concepts presented through literature are examined

Additional stress is also laid on development of students' ability to express themselves in both oral and written work

Electives are offered in Speech, Drama, Journalism and production of publications for the second through fourth years

Recognition of the instructional quality came to Arcadia this year when two seniors, Nora Crow and Judy Polansky, received first place honors in nation-wide competition sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English

A FOUR YEAR PROGRAM of Physical Education, a State requirement for graduation, is offered. Stressing the development of good health through daily exercise, it also provides instruction in the fundamentals and development of skills in all types of sports suitable for both boys and girls.

Team sports foster good sportsmanship and the value of cooperative effort. In addition, students have the opportunity to master the fundamentals of many individual sports which may be enjoyed during the post school years.

Inter-school competitions for boys in football, cross country, track, baseball, tennis, golf, and swimming are a part of the after-school physical education offerings. Girls may also participate in inter-school play days through auspices of the Girls Athletic Association.

IN A RAPIDLY CHANGING WORLD where the study of Mathematics is a more important subject than ever before, Arcadia's curriculum has become increasingly more comprehensive. During the past year, students who had completed Algebra while still in the eighth grade advanced to Plane Geometry at the Freshman level. When they reach the Senior level, these students will receive more advanced instruction in mathematics.

The present accelerated curriculum provides for the study of both Plane and Solid Geometry concurrently. In the fourth year, Mathematics analysis is presented which includes Trigonometry and an Introduction to Calculus.

Mathematics majors are enrolled in Algebra I, Plane Geometry, and Algebra II for the first three years. Then, in the twelfth grade, the curriculum includes Trigonometry, Solid Geometry, and Analytic Geometry. In addition, all other college bound students must achieve a satisfactory grade in Algebra I and Plane Geometry to fulfill their college entrance requirements in mathematics.

ILITIES AND INTERESTS.

WITH THE UNITED STATES in its position of leadership today, world affairs play a more significant role than at any time in history. International Relations is designed to give a basic understanding of people and conflicts on today's world scene

Highlights of the program include: each student studying one country and becoming an expert on that one country; attending sessions of the Institute of World Affairs; participation in model United Nations conclaves at various universities; and division of the world into areas such as the Polar World, the dry world, and the Monsoon World, with the study of people and events from this point of view.

ARCADIA HIGH STUDENTS are fortunate in having a language department which offers five foreign languages. Russian was started three years ago and will progress to a four year course by next year. French, Latin, and Spanish are offered four years, and German, three.

Fifty five foreign languages classes are offered a day taught by 11 teachers, some of whom are teaching their native tongue. Of the 2,677 students at Arcadia this year, 1,445 are fulfilling their minimum two year language requirement of most colleges and universities. Many have already fulfilled the requirement in previous years.

ESTABLISHED to provide an opportunity for students planning teaching careers, the Teacher Observation Program gives Seniors an opportunity to sample the responsibilities which are typical of elementary teachers. Each day during the various school periods, a selected group of Senior girls go to five elementary schools in Arcadia to act as assistants to teachers.

A work education program is offered to those students who wish to profit from a "learning on-the-job" situation. After verification of employment and consent from home is presented, the student may be enrolled for one period a day in the program. This year Arcadia High students worked at various kinds of jobs within the surrounding area.

HEAPER BY THE DOZEN,"

PLANNING, preparation of foods and serving family meals are an important part of the three years Homemaking program offered students. A Senior Homemaking course is also offered to girls who have not had previous training in the field, but who wish a generalized one year course at the fourth year level.

Study of textiles, techniques of sewing and tailoring, budgeting for and selection of a suitable wardrobe are also curriculum areas which are studied. In addition, the management unit presents information on the care of and conservation of clothing, the efficient operation of the home, with principles of interior decoration.

A full range of homemaking responsibilities, child care, budgeting, home safety, and "making a house a home" are a part of the homemaking curriculum.

EACH YEAR A LARGE NUMBER of graduating seniors receive scholarships and special awards in recognition of their academic records and personal achievement as students at Arcadia.

On the following pages, special recognition has been given to those awards which had already been decided upon prior to April 1, the final deadline of the 1961 Arcadia. The staff regrets that, because of this early deadline, no more awards could have been announced.

It is suggested that a copy of the special Graduation Section of the Arcadia Tribune, dated June 12, be retained in the back of the Arcadian. This will provide a complete report on all outstanding senior awards for the year.

NATIONAL COUNCIL OF TEACHERS OF ENGLISH

FOR THEIR PROFICIENCY in writing, along with high scores received on a special English test and samples of creative writing, two girls received First Places in the National Council of Teachers Association program. This marked the first time that two Arcadia students had received first place honors from this national professional organization.

NATIONAL MERIT FINALISTS

RECEIVING NATIONAL RECOGNITION for their high scores on the National Merit Scholarship tests were five Arcadia seniors. Each had previously been named semi-finalist earlier in the year. This year's group represented the largest number of finalists at Arcadia since the merit program began.

As finalists they were eligible for four year National Merit awards with amounts based on choice of college and financial need. Final notification of awards will be made by the Foundation later in the year.

BANK

OF AMERICA

BANK OF AMERICA AWARDS program seeks to give recognition to graduating seniors who have made outstanding achievement in many areas of academic endeavor. The program, which is statewide, offers substantial scholarships to winners, and a program of selection and screening on first, the local level, and then, at the zone level. Specific Field winners receive Certificates of Merit, with General Field winners receiving personal trophies and the opportunity to compete with contestants from other schools.

The final screening at the zone and state levels comes late in the spring. For this reason, final results cannot be announced in the Annual.

D COMMUNITY GROUPS.

AT PRESS TIME, final selections for awards had not yet been made by the various organizations, both community and school. High on the list was the Key Club scholarship which is financed through the sale of decals bearing the legend "It Helped a Scholar with a Dollar" by members of the Kiwanis sponsored Key Club.

Recipients of the California Savings and Loan Association award, Kiowa, Methodist Hospital Scholarship, Arcadia Teachers Association award, Quarterback Club and many other awards and scholarships had not been decided upon at press time but will be honored at the Spring Academic Awards Assembly.

In addition, many seniors will, in all probability, receive college-sponsored awards but these are not usually made public until the close of school.

UNDERCLASSMEN

ENTHUSIASTICALLY joining in the spirit of high school life, Underclassmen are an integral part of the campus community. In preparation for their final year of high school and possible future college education, Underclassmen are offered a wide variety of academic programs.

With the addition of a course in World Geography, four years of Social Studies are now required for graduation from Arcadia High School along with four years of English and Physical Education, two years of science, and one year of mathematics.

As well as these required courses, a student preparing himself for continued formal education may augment his program with many other academic offerings. Among them are four-year courses in French, Latin, German, Spanish and Russian, advanced sciences such as Chemistry, Physics, Advanced Biology and Botany.

Fine Arts courses in choral and instrumental music, drama and art are also offered as well as programs in Business Education, Homemaking and several areas of Industrial Arts.

With the close of the 1960-61 year, Underclassmen will be limited to Sophomores and Juniors since the present Freshman class brings to a close the 6-2-4 educational system in Arcadia.

ENTHUSIASTIC JUNIORS COMPLETED A SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Student leaders of the Junior Class, President Dave Eucker and Vice President Jack Little discuss plans for the coming year.

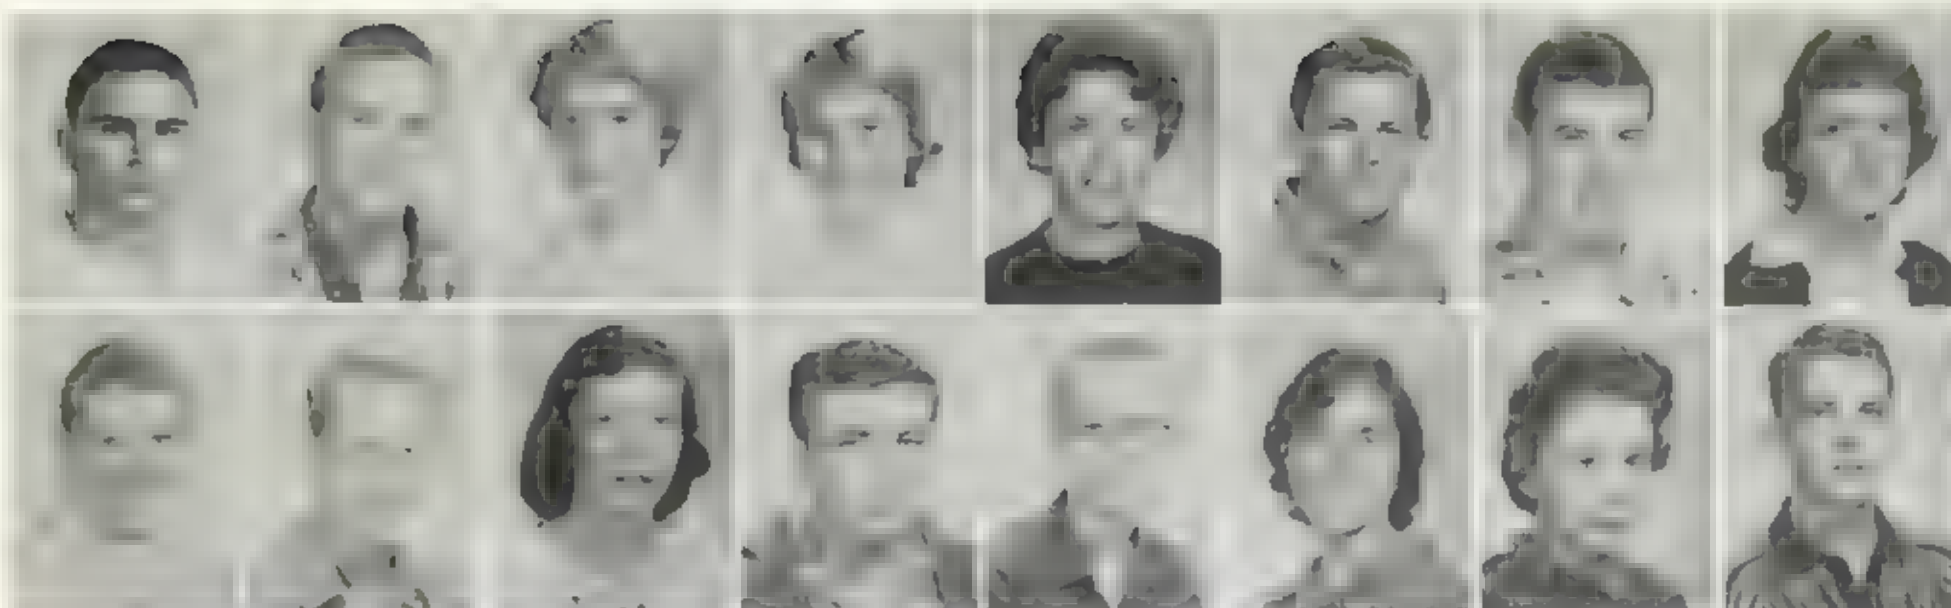

Recording Secretary Miss Mary Ann, Treasurer Miss Veronica Franks, and Vice President Miss Catherine Terry.

CLASS OF '62

ENTHUSIASTIC Juniors of the class of '62 have assumed the role of upperclassmen masterfully. They participated willingly in school activities and have contributed much spirit and zest to their class and to their school. Juniors, having already received their class rings, have already been congratulated on the excellent planning of their Annual Junior-Senior prom. Juniors have worked and have successfully passed their Constitution and other academic requirements. After taking advantage of all the educational facilities available to them they now look forward, well prepared to the demanding ahead of them, of being seniors.

Junior Class sponsors H. L. Gex, Miss Catherine Terry and Miss Veronica Franks helped the Junior Class through the first year of upperclassmen.

CLASS OF '63

MEMBERS of the sophomore class have become well adjusted to high school life. Since last September they have formed three Y-teen clubs and have displayed evidence of fine leadership as they have assisted in many school clubs and campus activities. Faculty and students expect fine accomplishments from this group in the future, and the class of 1963 anxiously awaits a chance to prove themselves as upperclassmen. In what responsibilities were open to them they have shown response and participation with the help of their sponsors Mrs. Diane Di Conti and Miss Gloria Rauchle and the guidance they have received from past upperclassmen the sophomores are ready for the new challenge.

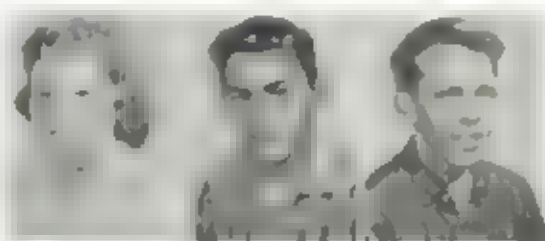

Friendly sophomore sponsors Miss Gloria Rauchle and Mrs. Diane Di Conti court...

LAGER FRESHMEN MADE RAPID ACADEMIC PROGRESS

NUMBERING more than seven hundred, the Class of '64 has the distinction of being the last freshman class at the high school. With the completion of the junior high facilities, Arcadia will become a three year high school.

Extended day scheduling brought freshmen on campus at 10 o'clock, and their final classes closed at 4:30 each day. However, they made fine progress in their academic studies and by joining many organizations during the year, became well acquainted with the entire high school program. Now they can look forward to returning to the campus in the fall without that feeling of "strangeness."

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE WAS A FRESHMAN GOAL

DEMONSTRATING their academic competence during their first semester in high school, 37 freshmen out of a class of 695 attained the 10 grade points which would qualify them for membership in the Arcadia Chapter of the California Scholarship Federation. Due to early deadlines, the second semester's members could not be published. Although freshmen grades are not considered in the naming of Gold Seal graduates they are nevertheless, an indication of the student's potential academic record in high school.

ADVERTISING

EMBLEMATIC of the pride demonstrated by citizens of Arcadia for their city was the magnificent local entry in the world famous Pasadena Tournament of Roses Parade. Funds for the execution of this float were raised by public subscription, under the sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The float, depicting the famous "Lucky" Baldwin guest house called the "Queen Anne Cottage" was named "By the Sleepy Lagoon" in keeping with the parade theme of "Ballads in Blossoms".

Arcadia Junior, Miss Constance Chambers, was selected as Queen of the float, with Linda Lee Hunsicker, Carol Gourly, Sandra Marrell and Marian W.berg serving as her court.

Arcadia's first entry in the Rose Parade for many years, the float serves as a dramatic example of community pride.

Similarly, the activities of Arcadia High School students have been enthusiastically supported by members of the community. Since 1953, when the school's first yearly publication, the ARCADIAN, made its appearance, local firms have been unswerving in their participation through the advertising section of the ARCADIAN.

For their continuing encouragement and support, in behalf of all past, present and future Arcadia High School students, the ARCADIAN again expresses the school's appreciation and thanks.

More than one million people viewed the 20th annual Tournament of Roses Parade
 held on January 2nd under a sunny
 California sky.

IN PARTING....

AS THE YEAR draws to a close, hectic activity in Room 100 turns to the coming year. Gone are the nights and weekends when lights blazed in Room 100; staff members made hurried trips to the J-4 darkroom; the frantic Snack periods when students came to the publications room for pictures and to give information. But, as the final bell rings, scattering staffers and memories in many directions, I would like to express my thanks to each person who has helped with the production of the ARCADIAN.

Administration editors, CHRIS LUNDOQUIST and SUE HAWKINS, diligently collected professional information about faculty members and planned interesting layouts for the administration section.

Categorizing all the coming events, Activity editors, LESLIE NEUBERG and JO PEDERSON presented an excellent coverage of the year's events. Organizations editor, CHRIS McCracken and SUSIE KING have inaugurated a new policy of representing organizations as they participated in their many activities.

PAM SCOTT, Advertising Manager, assisted by staff members and Faye Lamel, spent uncounted hours selling advertising space, taking pictures and making final layouts for an excellent advertising section.

Booking of six hundred senior appointments and arranging the Senior portrait session was the exacting task of Senior editors, BONNIE CAMPBELL and SHARON JACKSON. This year, too, this section carried pictures and copy blocks explaining curriculum offerings at the High School.

JOHN CURTIS, Sports editor, working against early deadlines, frantically collected istics and pictures of the latest games before the pages were due. MEREDITH LA VENE worked with this section and was also in charge of the Girls Sports Section.

Underclassmen editor, LONNIE VROMAN, assisted by KAREN KELLEY, has accomplished a remarkable feat in laying out over 2,000 pictures in proper order, surmounting many problems arising from this format.

Particular appreciation is expressed to the photographic staff, headed by JOHN VA, which spent uncounted hours in the J 4 darkroom developing and printing pictures to meet exacting standards. NORM SHAPIRO and RAY LEONARD, as well as John, are on call, day and night, to take several thousand pictures of all types of activities.

SUE SOMMER, Government editor, and JANE WOLTERS, Circulation Manager, did excellent work on their assignments. Roving helpers, typists and layout planners, SUE MATHIS, WIN WEISSMAN and PATTY MITCHELL, completed the Annual staff.

Thanks are also due PHIL CLARK of the S. K. SMITH COMPANY, for his guidance in printing and selection of the cover. TAYLOR PUBLISHING COMPANY has guided the staff in an entirely new copy preparation plan and has solved many technical problems during the year. Not to be forgotten, too, is BILL GILL of SANTA ANITA STUDIO, who has done portrait work on the Annual and has been on call to take special pictures all year long.

Last, but certainly most important, is our advisor, MRS. HAZEL REEGLER. Through the nine months, she has been most inspiring in her guidance and criticism as she has helped us mold the 1967 Arcadian.

Now to all these dedicated people, I express my deep and sincere thanks for a job well done.

Barbara Campbell
